

OFFICE OF THE HOLY OIL

Sung by Seven Priests assembled in Church or in a house

The senior Priest having given the blessing:

Blessed is our God, always now and ever, and the ages of ages.

we begin:

Amen. Holy God. Holy Mighty. Holy Immortal. Have mercy on us. (x3)

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

All-Holy Trinity: Have mercy on us. Lord: Cleanse our sins. Master: Pardon our transgressions. Holy One: watch over and heal our infirmities, for Your name's sake.

Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.

Priest: For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Lord, have mercy (x12). Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Come, let us worship and fall down before the King, our God.

Come, let us worship and fall down before Christ, the King, our God.

Come, let us worship and fall down before Christ himself, the King, our God.

Psalm 142

Lord, hear my prayer; in your truth give ear to my supplication, and in your righteousness hear me. Do not enter into judgement with your servant, for in your sight no one living can be justified. For the enemy pursued my soul; humbled my life to the ground; made me dwell in darkness, like those for ever dead. My spirit in me grew weary, and my heart was troubled within me. I remembered days of old; I meditated on all your works. I made the works of your hands my meditation. I stretched out my hands towards you; my soul thirsted for you like a waterless land. Hear me swiftly, O Lord; my spirit has failed. Do not turn your face from me, or I shall be like those who go down to the Pit.

Make me hear of your mercy in the morning, for I have hoped in you. Make known to me the way in which I should walk, for to you I have lifted up my soul. Deliver me from my enemies, Lord; I have run to you for shelter. Teach me to do your will, for you are my God. Your good Spirit will guide me in an upright land. For your name's sake, O Lord, you will give me life. In your righteousness you will bring my soul out of trouble; in your mercy slay my enemies, and destroy all those who afflict my soul, for I am your servant.

Then the Small Litany

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray for the servants of God standing here, and that the grace of the Holy Spirit may come upon them.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

After this Alleluia is read.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

Deacon/Priest: O Lord, rebuke me not in your anger, nor chastise me in your wrath.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on me, O God, for I am weak.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

And the following Troparia. Tone 6.

Have mercy on us, Lord, have mercy on us, for we sinners, lacking all defence, offer you as our Master this supplication: have mercy on us.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Lord, have mercy on us, for we have put our trust in you. Do not be very angry with us, nor remember our iniquities. But look on us now, as you are compassionate, and rescue us from our enemies. For you are our God, and we are your people; we are all the work of your hand, and we have called on your name.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Open the gate of compassion to us, blessed Mother of God; hoping in you may we not fail. Through you may we delivered from adversities, for you are the salvation of the Christian race.

Psalm 50

Have mercy on me, O God, according to your great mercy, and according to the magnitude of your compassions blot out my transgression.

More thoroughly wash me from my lawlessness, and cleanse me from my sin. For I do know my lawlessness, and my sin is ever before me.

Against you only I have sinned and have done the evil before you, so that you are righteous in your words and conquer in your judging.

For, behold, in iniquities I was conceived, and in sins my mother bore me. For, behold, you have loved truth, the unseen and hidden things of your wisdom you have shown me.

You will sprinkle me with hyssop and I will be cleansed; you will wash me and I will be made whiter than snow.

You will make me hear joy and gladness; the humbled bones will rejoice. Turn away your face from my sins, and blot out all my transgressions.

Create a clean heart in me, O God, and renew a right Spirit in my inward parts. Do not cast me away from your Face, and do not take your Holy Spirit from me.

Give me back the joy of your Salvation, and make me steadfast with a governing Spirit.

I will teach the lawless your ways, and the ungodly will turn around to you.

Deliver me from blood, O God, God of my salvation, and my tongue will rejoice in your righteousness. Lord, you will open my lips, and my mouth will proclaim your praise.

For if you had wanted a sacrifice, I would have given it; you will not be well-pleased in whole burnt offerings.

A sacrifice to God is a shattered spirit; a shattered and humbled heart God will not despise.

Do good, Lord, to Sion in your good pleasure and the walls of Jerusalem be rebuilt!

Then you will be well-pleased in sacrifice of righteousness, offering and whole-burnt offerings.

Then they will offer calves upon your altar.

And after the 50th Psalm the Canon is read, of which the Acrostic is:

Psalm of blessing of oil from Arsenios.

Before each Troparion the Reader sings:

O Master Christ, have mercy on your servant[s].

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Ode 6. I will sacrifice to you.

Deacon/Priest: By your words, Lover of mankind, you ordained anointing with oil for kings, and performed it through high priests; save the suffering also by your sealing as you are compassionate.

O Master Christ, have mercy on your servant[s].

Deacon/Priest: May no influence of wicked demons touch the senses of those signed by divine anointing, O Saviour, but wall them about with the shelter of your glory.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Deacon/Priest: Stretch out your hand from on high, Lover of mankind, and by hallowing your oil give health and deliverance from all diseases to your servants.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Deacon/Priest: You have been shown to be a fruitful olive tree in the house of your God, Mother of your Creator, though whom the world has appeared full of mercy; save the ailing with the touch of your intercessions.

You are a fountain of mercy, O Supremely Good, deliver from every ill those who with fervent faith fall down before your ineffable mercy, O Compassionate, and taking away their diseases, grant them the divine grace from on high.

Ode 7. The children of Abraham.

Deacon/Priest: O Saviour, only God, as in your mercy and pity you heal the passions of the soul, the afflictions of the bodies of all, treat and heal too those who are suffering from diseases.

O Master Christ, have mercy on your servant[s].

Deacon/Priest: By anointing with the anointment of oil the heads of all, give the joy of gladness to those who seek the mercy of your redemption in your rich mercy, O Lord.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Deacon/Priest: Your seal, O Saviour, is a sword against demons, and a fire consuming the passions of souls, through the entreaties of priests; and so, having received healing, we sing your praise with faith.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Deacon/Priest: Mother of God, you carried within your womb, in a manner befitting God, and ineffably gave a body to the One who holds all things in the hollow of his hand; we beg you to have pity on the ailing.

Ode 8. Stretching out his hands.

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us all, O Saviour, in accordance with your great and divine mercy; for mystically symbolizing its figure, Master, we bring the anointing with sacred oil for the sick; heal them all by your power.

O Master Christ, have mercy on your servant[s].

Deacon/Priest: With the streams of your mercy, O Christ, and with anointings by your priests, wash away, Lord, as you are compassionate, the pains, the wounds, the attacks of sufferings of those worn down by the constraints of passions, that through your cleansing they may find strength.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Deacon/Priest: Do not withdraw your mercy, Master, from us who depict your divine oil as a symbol of help and joy from on high, nor despise those who cry out with faith: Bless the Lord all you works of the Lord.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Deacon/Priest: Nature received as a glorious crown, O Pure One, your divine Offspring, who crushed the ranks of foes and mightily defeated them; and so, crowned with the bright rays of your graces, we hymn you, Sovereign Lady, all-praised.

Deacon/Priest: Look down from heaven, O Compassionate, and show to all your mercy; through the divine anointing of your priests now give your help and your strength to those who approach you.

O Master Christ, have mercy on your servant[s].

Deacon/Priest: All-loving Saviour, rejoicing we have seen the divine oil, which by your divine decision beyond the power of the partakers you have accepted, and symbolically shared with those who partake of the divine washing.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Deacon/Priest: Have pity, have mercy, Saviour, deliver from fears and sufferings, rescue from the arrows of the evil one the souls and bodies of your servants, for you, Lord, are merciful and heal by divine grace.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Deacon/Priest: Accept, O Virgin, the hymns and supplications of your servants; deliver by your entreaties from harsh pains and sufferings, O all-pure, those who through us flee to your divine protection.

It is truly right to call you blessed, who gave birth to God, ever-blessed and most pure, and Mother of our God. More honorable than the Cherubim, and more glorious beyond compare than the Seraphim: without defilement you gave birth to God the Word: true Birthgiver of God, we magnify you!

Exapostilarion. Our Saviour, the Dayspring.

Look with your merciful eye on our entreaty, loving Lord, as we gather today in your holy Temple, to anoint with divine oil your sick servants.

At Lauds, Prosoimia - read. You have given as a sign.

Lover of mankind, easily placated, through your Apostles you have given your grace by your holy oil to heal all wounds and diseases; and so, as you are compassionate, hallow, have mercy by your oil on those who draw near in faith, cleanse them of every kind of sickness and make them worthy, Lord, of your incorruptible delight. (Twice)

O Incomprehensible, as you are compassionate and seal our senses with your invisible hand by your divine oil, look down from heaven, Lover of mankind, upon those who run to you with faith and ask forgiveness of offences; and grant them healing of soul and body, that with love they may glorify you as they magnify your might.

With the anointing of your mercy and the touch of your priests, Lover of mankind, hallow your servants from on high, deliver them from diseases, cleanse and wash away their defilement of soul, O Saviour, and deliver them from the manifold occasions of sin; comfort their toils, drive away disasters, and wipe out their afflictions, as you are full of pity and compassion.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

O highly praised, all-pure Palace of the King, I entreat you: purify my mind, sullied with every sin, and make it a fair dwelling for the divine Trinity; so that I, your unprofitable servant, may be saved and magnify your power and limitless mercy.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.

Priest: For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory, of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Troparion. Tone 4. Speedily anticipate

As you alone, O Christ, are quick to help, quickly show your visitation from high to your servants who are suffering; free them from diseases and bitter pains; raise them up to praise you and glorify you unceasingly; at the prayers of the Mother of God, only Lover of mankind.

Litany of Peace

Deacon/Priest: In peace let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. [and so after each petition]

For the peace from above and for the salvation of our souls, let us pray to the Lord.

For the peace of the whole world, for the stability of the holy Churches of God, and for the union of all, let us pray to the Lord.

For this holy house and for those who enter it with faith, reverence, and the fear of God, let us pray to the Lord.

For our father and (arch)bishop ____, for the honorable priesthood, the diaconate in Christ, for all the clergy and the people, let us pray to the Lord.

For the civil authorities of this country and those serving in its armed forces, let us pray to the Lord.

For this city, for every monastery, city, and countryside, and for those who in faith dwell in them, let us pray to the Lord.

For good temperance of the air, abundance of the fruits of the earth, and for peaceful seasons, let us pray to the Lord.

For travelers by land, sea, and air, the sick, the suffering, the imprisoned, and for their salvation, let us pray to the Lord.

For our deliverance from all affliction, wrath, danger, and necessity, let us pray to the Lord.

Help us, save us, have mercy on us, and keep us, O God, by your grace.

Remembering our all-holy, pure, most blessed, and glorious Lady, the Birthgiver of God and ever-virgin Mary, with all the saints, let us offer ourselves and one another, and our whole life to Christ God.

Reader: To you, O Lord.

Priest: For to you belong all glory, honour and worship, to the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Then the Priest says the Prayer of the Oil in front of the lamp.

Note, that in the Great Church instead of water they put wine into the lamp of the Efc helaion.

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

Priest: Lord, who in your mercy and pity heal the afflictions of our souls and bodies, sanctify this oil, Master, that it may be for those who are anointed with it for healing and relief of every passion, bodily disease, stain of flesh and spirit and every evil; that through it your all-holy Name, of Father, Son and Holy Spirit, may be glorified now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

While this prayer is being said by the Priest the following Troparia are read.

You alone, O Christ, are quick to help, quickly show your visitation from on high to your servants who are suffering; free them from diseases and bitter pains; raise them up to praise you and glorify you unceasingly; at the prayers of the Mother of God, only Lover of mankind.

Blinded in the eyes of my soul, I come to you, O Christ, like the man blind from birth, as I cry to you in repentance: You are the shining Light of those in darkness.

Raise my soul, grievously paralysed by every sort of sin and abominable deed, by your divine presence, O Christ, as you raised the paralytic of old, that saved I may cry to you: O merciful Christ, glory to your might!

As the Lord's Disciple, O Just one, you received the Gospel; as a martyr you cannot be turned away; as God's brother you have freedom to speak; as Hierarch you have the right to intercede. Implore Christ God that our souls may be saved.

The Only-begotten of the Father, God the Word, who dwelt among us in these last days, declared you, venerable James, first shepherd and teacher of Jerusalem, and faithful steward of the spiritual mysteries; therefore, O Apostle, we all honour you.

In Myra, O Saint, you were revealed as priest, for having fulfilled Christ's Gospel you laid down your life for your people; you saved the innocent from death; therefore you have been hallowed as a great initiate of God's grace.

The world found in you a great champion in dangers, O victor, who routs the nations. As then you humbled Lyaio's pride, by giving courage to Nestor in the stadium, so now great Martyr Demetrios, implore Christ God to grant us his great mercy.

O holy Champion and Healer, Panteleimon, intercede with the merciful God to grant our souls forgiveness of sins.

Holy Unmercenaries and Wonderworkers, visit our weaknesses; freely you received, freely give to us.

Who will recount your mighty works, O Virgin? For you pour out wonders, are a fount of healing, and you intercede on behalf of our souls, as Theologian and friend of Christ.

Fervent intercession and unshakeable Wall, fount of mercy, refuge of the world, earnestly we cry to you: Mother of God, Sovereign Lady, hasten and deliver us from dangers, who alone are prompt to protect.

The Apostle is read by the Deacon.

FIRST READINGS FROM SCRIPTURE

Priest: Wisdom!

Deacon: The Prokeimenon in the 1st Tone. [Psalm 32] May your mercy, O Lord, be upon us, / as we have set our hope on you.

Reader: May your mercy, O Lord, be upon us, / as we have set out hope on you.

Deacon: Rejoice in the Lord, you righteous; praise becomes the upright.

Reader: May your mercy, O Lord, be upon us, / as we have set out hope on you.

Deacon: May your mercy, O Lord, be upon us,

Reader: as we have set out hope on you.

Priest: Wisdom!

Deacon: The Reading is from the General Epistle of Jacob. [5:10-16]

Priest: Let us attend!

Deacon: Brethren, as an example of suffering and patience take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. Indeed we call blessed those who showed endurance. You have heard of the endurance of Job, and you have seen the purpose of the Lord, how the Lord is compassionate and merciful. Above all, my beloved, do not swear, either by heaven or by earth or by any other oath, but let your 'Yes' be yes and your 'No' be no, so that you may not fall under condemnation. Are any among you suffering? They should pray. Are any cheerful? They should sing songs of praise. Are any among you sick? They should call for the elders of the church and have them pray over them, anointing them with oil in the name of the Lord. The prayer of faith will save the sick, and the Lord will raise them up; and anyone who has committed sins will be forgiven. Therefore confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another, so that you may be healed. The prayer of the righteous is powerful and effective.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia. [Psalm 100]

Deacon: I will sing to you of mercy and judgement, O Lord.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

Deacon/Priest: And that he would count us worthy to hear to the holy Gospel, let us pray to the Lord God.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.

Deacon/Priest: Wisdom. Upright. Let us listen to the holy Gospel.

Priest: Peace to all.

Reader: And to your spirit.

Priest: The reading is from the holy Gospel according to Luke.

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Let us attend! [10:25-37]

Priest: At that time a lawyer stood up to test Jesus. 'Teacher,' he said, 'what must I do to inherit eternal life?' He said to him, 'What is written in the law? What do you read there?'

He answered, 'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbour as yourself.' And he said to him, 'You have given the right answer; do this, and you will live.' But wanting to justify himself, he asked Jesus, 'And who is my neighbour?' Jesus replied, 'A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell into the hands of robbers, who stripped him, beat him, and went away, leaving him half dead. Now by chance a priest was going down that road; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan while travelling came near him; and when he saw him, he was moved with pity. He went to him and bandaged his wounds, having poured oil and wine on them. Then he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him. The next day he took out two denarii, gave them to the innkeeper, and said, 'Take care of him; and when I come back, I will repay you whatever more you spend'. Which of these three, do you think, was a neighbour to the man who fell into the hands of the robbers?' He said, 'The one who showed him mercy.' Jesus said to him, 'Go and do likewise.'

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, visitation and forgiveness of sins for the servants of God standing here, and that they may be pardoned every offence both voluntary and involuntary.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Deacon: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

O God without beginning and without end, Holy of Holies, who sent forth your Only-begotten Son to heal every disease and every weakness of our souls and bodies, send down your Holy Spirit and hallow this oil; and cause it to be for your servants who are anointed for complete deliverance from their sins, for inheritance of the Kingdom of heaven.

Note that some say this Prayer only as far as here with the conclusion: For yours it is to show mercy..., while others continue to the end.

For you are God, great and wonderful, who keep your covenant and your mercy to those who love you. Through your holy child Jesus Christ you give deliverance from sins; you have given us new birth from sin, you give light to the blind, set upright those are cast down; you love the righteous and are merciful to sinners; you have called us back from darkness and the shadow of death, saying to those in chains: Come forth, and to those in darkness reveal yourselves. For in our hearts has shone the light of the knowledge of your Only-begotten Son, since for us he appeared on earth and lived among men. And to as many as received him he gave power to become your children, O God, granting us the grace of sonship through the washing of rebirth, and causing us to have no part in the domination of the devil. Since he did not consider it good for there to be cleansing by blood but by holy Oil, he has given us the sign of his Cross for us to become Christ's flock, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, having purified us by water and hallowed us by the holy Spirit. Do you, Master and Lord, give grace for this your service, as you gave Moses your servant, Samuel your beloved, John your chosen one and all those who in each generation have been well-pleasing to you. So make us too servants of the new Testament of your Son for this oil, which you have made your own by your precious Blood, that having put off worldly desires we may die to sin and live to righteousness, having put on our Lord Jesus Christ through the anointing of sanctification of the Oil which is about to be applied. May this oil, Lord, be an oil of gladness, an oil of sanctification, a royal garment, a breastplate of power, a protection against every operation of the devil, an inviolable seal, joy of heart, eternal delight, that all who are anointed with this oil of rebirth may become fearsome to their enemies and shine brightly with the brightness of your Saints, without spot or wrinkle, and that they may be received into your eternal rest and receive the prize of their high calling.

For yours it is to have mercy and to save us, O God, our God, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And after the Prayer the Priest says the following Prayer:

Holy Father, physician of souls and bodies, who sent your Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal every disease and to deliver from death, heal also your servants from the weakness of body and soul which holds them fast and give them life through the grace of your Son, at the prayers of our most holy Lady, Mother of God and ever-virgin Mary, by the might of the precious and life-giving Cross, at the protection of the honoured, heavenly and bodiless Powers, of the honoured and glorious Prophet, Forerunner and Baptist John, of the holy, glorious and all-praised Apostles, of the holy, glorious and victorious Martyrs, of our venerable and God-bearing Fathers, of the holy and healing Unmercenaries Kosmas and Damian, Kyros and John, Panteleimon and Hermolaos, Sampson and Diomedes, Mokios and Akinitos, Thalalaios and Tryphon, of the holy and righteous Forebears of God, Joachim and Anna, and of all the Saints. For you are the fount of healings, O God, our God, and to you we give glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

This Prayer is said by each of the Priests after reading the Gospel and the Prayer while anointing the sick.

SECOND READINGS FROM SCRIPTURE

Deacon/Priest: Wisdom!

Reader: The Prokeimenon in the 2nd Tone. [Psalm 117] The Lord is my strength and my song, and has become my salvation.

Chanter: The Lord is my strength and my song, / and has become my salvation.

Reader: You have chastened me hard, Lord, but have not handed me over to death.

Chanter: The Lord is my strength and my song, / and has become my salvation.

Reader: The Lord is my strength and my song,

Chanter: and has become my salvation.

Deacon/Priest: Wisdom!

Reader: The Reading is from the Epistle of Paul to the Romans. [15:1-7]

Deacon/Priest: Let us attend!

Reader: Brethren, we who are strong ought to bear with the failings of the weak, and not to please ourselves; let each of us please his neighbour for his good, to edify him. For Christ did not please himself; but, as it is written, 'The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me'. For whatever was written in former days was written for our instruction, that by steadfastness and by the encouragement of the scriptures we might have hope. May the God of steadfastness and encouragement grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, that together you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Welcome one another, therefore, as Christ has welcomed you, for the glory of God.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleuia. [Psalm 88]

Reader: I will sing of your acts of mercy, Lord, for ever.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleuia.

Priest: The reading is from the holy Gospel according to Luke.

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Let us attend! [19:1-11]

Priest: At that time Jesus was passing through Jericho. A man was there named Zacchaeus; he was a chief tax collector and was rich. He was trying to see who Jesus was, but on account of the crowd he could not, because he was short in stature. So he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to see him, because he was going to pass that way. When Jesus came to the place, he looked up and said to him, 'Zacchaeus, hurry and come down; for I must stay at your house today'. So he hurried down and welcomed him with joy. All who saw it began to grumble and said, 'He has gone to be the guest of one who is a sinner.' Zacchaeus stood there and said to the Lord, 'See, half of my possessions, Lord, I will give to the poor; and if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I will pay back four times as much'. Then Jesus said to him, 'Today salvation has come to this house, because he too is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man came to seek out and to save the lost'.

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, visitation and forgiveness of sins for the servants of God standing here, and that they may be pardoned every offence both voluntary and involuntary.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

O God, great and most high, who are worshipped by all creation, the fount of wisdom, the truly unfathomable abyss of goodness and the boundless ocean of compassion, do you, Master who love mankind, God of things eternal and wonderful, whom no human by taking thought is able to grasp, look upon, hearken to us your unworthy servants, and where we bring this Oil in your great name send down the healings of your gift and forgiveness of sins and heal them in the multitude of your mercy. Yes, Lord who are easy to be entreated, alone merciful and lover of mankind, who repent over our evil deeds, who know that the mind of mortals is bent upon wickedness from their youth, who do not want the death of sinners, but that turn back and live, who, being God, for the salvation of sinners became man, for the sake of your creature being made a creature. It is you who said: I have not come to call the righteous but sinners to repentance; you who sought the lost sheep; you who diligently sought the lost coin, and found it; you who said: The one who comes to me I will in no way cast out; you who did not abhor the Harlot when she drenched your honoured feet with her tears; you who said: As often as you fall, arise and you will be saved; you who said: There is joy in heaven over one sinner who repents. Look then, compassionate Master, from your holy height, overshadowing us sinners and your unworthy servants with the grace of the holy Spirit at this hour, and make your dwelling in your servants, who acknowledge their own offences and approach you in faith. And receiving them by your own love for mankind, and pardoning them whatever they have offended by word or deed or in thought, cleanse and purify them from every sin. And, being ever present to them, keep them during the remaining time of their life walking in your statutes so as to be no longer a laughing stock to the devil, that your all-holy name may be glorified in them. For yours it is to have mercy and to save us, Christ our God, and to you we give glory, together with your unoriginated Father, and your all-holy, good and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And after the Prayer the Priest says the following Prayer:

Holy Father, physician of souls and bodies, who sent your Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal every disease and to deliver from death, heal also your servants from the weakness of body and soul which holds them fast and give them life through the grace of your Son, at the prayers of our most holy Lady, Mother of God and ever-virgin Mary, by the might of the precious and life-giving Cross, at the protection of the honoured, heavenly and bodiless Powers, of the honoured and glorious Prophet, Forerunner and Baptist John, of the holy, glorious and all-praised Apostles, of the holy, glorious and victorious Martyrs, of our venerable and God-bearing Fathers, of the holy and healing Unmercenaries Kosmas and Damian, Kyros and John, Panteleimon and Hermolaos, Sampson and Diomedes, Mokios and Akinitos, Thalalaos and Tryphon, of the holy and righteous Forebears of God, Joachim and Anna, and of all the Saints. For you are the fount of healings, O God, our God, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Reader: Brethren, you are the body of Christ and individually members of it. And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then deeds of power, then gifts of healing, forms of assistance, forms of leadership, various kinds of tongues. Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? Do all possess gifts of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? But earnestly desire the higher gifts. And I will show you a still more excellent way. If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. If I give away all my possessions, and if I hand over my body to be burned, but have not love, I gain nothing. Love is patient and kind; love is not jealous, love is not boastful or arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way; it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice in wrongdoing, but rejoices in the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never ends.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

Master almighty, holy King, who chastise and do not put to death, who support those who fall and set upright those who are cast down; who correct the bodily afflictions of mankind, we beseech you, our God, to send your mercy upon this Oil and upon those who are anointed from it in your name, that it may become for them for healing of soul and body, and for the cleansing and driving out of every suffering and every disease and every sickness and of every defilement of flesh and spirit. Yes, Lord, send forth from heaven your healing power; touch the body, quench the fever, calm the suffering and chase away every lurking infirmity. Be the physician of your servants; raise them up from their bed of pain and their couch of distress; give them to your Church safe and sound, well-pleasing to you and doing your will. For we are the temple of the living God; as God said, 'I will live in them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. Therefore come out from them, and be separate from them, says the Lord, and touch nothing unclean; then I will welcome you, and I will be your father, and you shall be my sons and daughters, says the Lord Almighty'. Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of flesh and spirit, making holiness perfect in the fear of God.

Priest: At that time, when Jesus entered Peter's house, he saw his mother-in-law lying in bed with a fever; he touched her hand, and the fever left her, and she got up and began to serve him. That evening they brought to him many who were possessed with demons; and he cast out the spirits with a word, and cured all who were sick. This was to fulfil what had been spoken through the prophet Isaias 'He took our infirmities and bore our diseases'. Now when Jesus saw great crowds around him, he gave orders to go over to the other side. A scribe then approached and said, 'Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go'. And Jesus said to him, 'Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of Man has nowhere to lay his head'. Another of his disciples said to him, 'Lord, first let me go and bury my father'. But Jesus said to him, 'Follow me, and let the dead bury their own dead'. And when he got into the boat, his disciples followed him.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

O Lord, who are good and love mankind, compassionate and most merciful, who are great in mercy and rich in loving kindness, the Father of mercies and the God of all consolation, who have empowered us through your holy Apostles to cure the infirmities of the people by oil with prayer, do you yourself prescribe this Oil for healing for those anointed with it, for the expelling of every disease and every sickness, for deliverance from evils of those who await from you salvation. Yes, Master, Lord our God, we beg you, O all powerful, to save us all. Only physician of souls and bodies hallow us all. You heal every disease, heal your servants also; raise them from their bed of pain through the mercy of your goodness; visit them with your mercy and acts of pity. Reader: Brethren, we do not want you to be ignorant of the affliction we experienced in Asia; for we were so utterly, unbearably crushed that we despaired of life itself. Why, we felt that we had received the sentence of death; but that was to make us rely not on ourselves but on God who raises the dead; he delivered us from so deadly a peril, and he will deliver us; on him we have set our hope that he will deliver us again. You also must help us by prayer, so that many will give thanks on our behalf for the blessing granted us in answer to many prayers.

Priest: The Lord spoke this parable: The kingdom of heaven shall be compared to ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish, and five were wise. For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them; but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps. As the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept. But at midnight there was a cry, 'Behold, the bridegroom! Come out to meet him'. Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out'. But the wise replied, 'Perhaps there will not be enough for us and for you; go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves'. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast; and the door was shut. Afterwards the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, lord, open to us'. But he replied, 'Truly, I tell you, I do not know you'. Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming.

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, visitation and forgiveness of sins for the servants of God standing here, and that they may be pardoned every offence both voluntary and involuntary.

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

Lord our God, who chasten and heal again, who raise the poor from the earth and exalt the pauper from the dung heap, Father of the orphans, haven of the storm tossed and physician of the sick, who carry our infirmities without pain and take our diseases, who are merciful with gentleness, who pass over transgressions and take away injustice, who are swift to help and slow to anger, who breathed on your own Disciples and said: Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; who accept the repentance of sinners and have authority to pardon many and grievous sins, and who grant healing to all live long in infirmity and protracted sickness; who have also called me, your humble, sinful and unworthy servant, who am entangled in many sins and wallow in the passions of pleasures, to the holy and most lofty degree of the Priesthood, and to enter within the veil, into the Holy of Holies, where Angels desire to stoop, and to hear the gospel voice of the Lord God and to see with my own eyes the presence of the holy Oblation, and to delight in the divine and sacred Liturgy; who have counted me worthy to celebrate your holy Mysteries and to offer you gifts and sacrifices for our sins and for those committed in ignorance by your people, and to mediate on behalf of your rational sheep, so that through your great and ineffable love for mankind you would wipe away their offences. Do you, O King supremely good, give ear to my prayer at this hour and on this holy day, and at every hour and in every place, and attend to the voice of my supplication; and give healing to your servants who are in infirmity of soul and body, granting them forgiveness of sins and pardon of offences both voluntary and involuntary, healing their incurable wounds and every disease and every sickness. Give them healing of soul, you who touched Peter's mother in law and the fever left her and she arose and began to serve you. Do you yourself, Master, grant healing and alleviation of every pain, and remember your rich acts of pity and your mercy. Remember that the thought of man is constantly bent on wicked deeds from his youth and that none is found sinless on earth, for you alone are without sin, who came and save the human race and freed us from the slavery of the enemy; for if you enter into judgement with your servants, no one will be found pure of stain; but every mouth will be shut, having nothing with which to make defence, because all our righteousness is like a tattered rag before you. Therefore do not remember the sin of our youth, Lord. For you are the hope of the hopeless and the rest of those who toil and are heavy laden with iniquities, and to you we give glory, together with your unoriginated Father and your all-holy, good and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And after the Prayer the Priest says the following Prayer:

Holy Father, physician of souls and bodies, who sent your Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal every disease and to deliver from death, heal also your servants from the weakness of body and soul which holds them fast and give them life through the grace of your Son, at the prayers of our most holy Lady, Mother of God and ever-virgin Mary, by the might of the precious and life-giving Cross, at the protection of the honoured, heavenly and bodiless Powers, of the honoured and glorious Prophet, Forerunner and Baptist John, of the holy, glorious and all-praised Apostles, of the holy, glorious and victorious Martyrs, of our venerable and God-bearing Fathers, of the holy and healing Unmercenary Kosmas and Damian, Kyros and John, Panteleimon and Hermolaos, Sampson and Diomedes, Mokios and Akinitos, Thalalaos and Tryphon, of the holy and righteous Forebears of God, Joachim and Anna, and of all the Saints. Reader: Brethren, the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control; against such there is no law. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit. Let us have no self-conceit, no provoking of one another, no envy of one another. Brethren, if any one is overtaken in any trespass, you who are spiritual should restore them in a spirit of gentleness. Look to yourself, lest you too be tempted. Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.

Priest: At that time, Jesus went away from there and withdrew to the district of Tyre and Sidon. And behold, a Canaanite woman from that region came out and cried, 'Have mercy on me, O Lord, Son of David; my daughter is severely possessed by a demon'. But he did not answer her a word. And his disciples came and begged him, saying, 'Send her away, for she is crying after us'. He answered, 'I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel'. But she came and knelt before him, saying, 'Lord, help me'. And he answered, 'It is not good to take the children's bread and throw it to the dogs'. She said, 'Yes, Lord, yet even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters' table'. Then Jesus answered her, 'O woman, great is your faith! Be it done for you as you desire'. And her daughter was healed instantly.

Reader: Amen.

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

We thank you, Lord our God, who are good and love mankind, and are the physician of our souls and bodies, who bear our diseases without pain, by whose bruises we have been healed; the good shepherd who came to seek for the sheep that had gone astray, who give comfort to the faint-hearted and life to the crushed, who healed the flow of the woman with an issue of blood for twelve years, who healed the daughter of the Canaanite woman of the cruel demon, who forgave the two debtors their debt and gave forgiveness to the sinful woman, who granted healing to the paralysed man with the forgiveness of his sins, who justified the Publican by a word and accepted the Thief by his final confession, who took away the sins of the world and nailed them to the Cross. We beg and implore you: In your loving-kindness loose, forgive, pardon, O God, the iniquities and sins of your servants, their offences both voluntary and involuntary, in knowledge and in ignorance, by transgression and disobedience, by night and by day; or if they are the curse of a Priest or of father or mother; if they have feasted their eyes, indulged their sense of smell, been seduced by touch or fornicated by taste, or by whatever movement of flesh and spirit have become estranged from your will and from your holiness. Pardon whatever sins they or we have committed, for you, O God, are good, you do not remember evil and you love mankind, and do not let them or us fall into a defiled life or run into ways of destruction. Yes, Master and Lord, hearken to me a sinner at this hour on behalf of your servants. Overlook, O God, as you do not remember evil, all their offences, free them from eternal punishment, fill their mouths with your praise, open their lips to glorify your name, stretch out their hands to the doing of your commandments, direct their feet to the course of your Gospel, making all their members and their thoughts safe by your grace. For you are our God, who commanded us by your holy Apostles, saying: Whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven. And again: If you forgive the sins of any they are forgiven them; if you retain the sins of any they are retained. And as you hearkened to Ezechias in the affliction of his soul at the hour of his death and did not disregard his petition, even so hearken to me also, your humble, sinful and unworthy servant at this hour as I entreat you. For you, Lord Jesus Christ, are the one who commanded in your goodness and love for mankind to forgive those who fall seventy times seven, and you repent over our evils deeds and rejoice at the turning back of those who have gone astray. For as is your majesty so is your mercy, and to you we give glory, together with your unoriginate Father and your all-holy, good and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And after the Prayer the Priest says the following Prayer:

Holy Father, physician of souls and bodies, who sent your Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal every disease and to deliver from death, heal also your servants from the weakness of body and soul which holds them fast and give them life through the grace of your Son, at the prayers of our most holy Lady, Mother of God and ever-virgin Mary, by the might of the precious and life-giving Cross, at the protection of the honoured, heavenly and bodiless Powers, of the honoured and glorious Prophet, Forerunner and Baptist John, of the holy, glorious and all-praised Apostles, of the holy, glorious and victorious Martyrs, of our venerable and God-bearing Fathers, of the holy and healing Unmercenaries Kosmas and Damian, Kyros and John, Panteleimon and Hermolaos, Sampson and Diomedes, Mokios and Akinitos, Thalalaos and Tryphon, of the holy and righteous Forebears of God, Joachim and Anna, and of all the Saints. Chanter: O Lord, do not rebuke in your anger, or chastise me in your rage.

Reader: Have mercy on me, O Lord, for I am weak.

Chanter: O Lord, do not rebuke in your anger, or chastise me in your rage.

Reader: O Lord, do not rebuke in your anger,

Chanter: or chastise me in your rage.

Deacon/Priest: Wisdom!

Reader: The Reading is from the First Epistle of Paul to the Thessalonians. [5:14-24]

Deacon/Priest: Let us attend!

Reader: Brethren, we exhort you, brethren, admonish the idlers, encourage the fainthearted, help the weak, be patient with them all. See that none of you repays evil for evil, but always seek to do good to one another and to all. Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you. Do not quench the Spirit, do not despise prophesying, but test everything; hold fast what is good, abstain from every form of evil. May the God of peace himself sanctify you wholly; and may your spirit and soul and body be kept sound and blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleuia. Tone 2.

Reader: May the Lord hear you in the day of trouble; may the God of Jacob shield you.

Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleuia.

Deacon/Priest: And that he would count us worthy to hear to the holy Gospel, let us pray to the Lord God.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.

Deacon/Priest: Wisdom. Upright. Let us listen to the holy Gospel.

Priest: Peace to all.

Reader: And to your spirit.

Priest: The reading is from the holy Gospel according to Matthew.

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Let us attend! [9:9-13]

Priest: At that time, as Jesus was walking along, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax booth; and he said to him, 'Follow me'. And he got up and followed him. And as he sat at dinner in the house, many tax collectors and sinners came and were sitting with him and his disciples. When the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, 'Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?' But when he heard this, he said, 'Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. Go and learn what this means, 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice'. For I have come to call not the righteous but sinners'

Reader: Glory to you, O Lord, glory to you!

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, visitation and forgiveness of sins for the servants of God standing here, and that they may be pardoned every offence both voluntary and involuntary.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

And the Priest says this Prayer:

Master, Lord our God, physician of souls and bodies, who cure chronic sufferings and heal every disease and sickness among the people, who wish that all should be saved and come to a knowledge of the truth, who do not desire the death of sinners, but rather that they be converted and live. For it was you, Lord, who in the old Testament established repentance for the sinners, David and the Ninevites, and for those before and for those after them. But also during the course of your incarnate dispensation you did not call the righteous, but sinners to repentance, like the Publican, the Harlot, the Thief and the blasphemer and great persecutor Paul, whom you received through repentance. Peter, the leader and your Apostle, who had denied you three times, you received through repentance and accepted and made him this promise: You are Peter, and on this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it. And I will give you the keys of the Kingdom of heaven. And therefore, good Master, who love mankind, we too confident in accordance with your faithful promises, beg and implore you at this hour: Harken to our supplication and accept it like incense offered to you, and visit your servants. And if they have offended in word or deed or by thought, by night or by day, or if they have come under the curse of a Priest, or fallen under their own anathema, or been embittered by a curse and have forsworn themselves, we beg and beseech you: Loose, forgive, pardon them, O God, overlooking their iniquities, their sins and what ever has been committed by them in knowledge and in ignorance. And if they have in anything transgressed your commandments, because they bear flesh and dwell in the world or through the activity of the Devil, as you, O God, are good and love mankind, pardon them. Because there is none who will live and not sin, for you alone are without sin, your righteousness is righteousness for ever and your word is truth. Because you did not fashion humanity for destruction, but for the keeping of your commandments and inheritance of incorruptible life. And to you we give glory, together with your unoriginated Father and your all-holy, good and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And after the Prayer the Priest says the following Prayer:

Holy Father, physician of souls and bodies, who sent your Only-begotten Son our Lord Jesus Christ to heal every disease and to deliver from death, heal also your servants from the weakness of body and soul which holds them fast and give them life through the grace of your Son, at the prayers of our most holy Lady, Mother of God and ever-virgin

Mary, by the might of the precious and life-giving Cross, at the protection of the honoured, heavenly and bodiless Powers, of the honoured and glorious Prophet, Forerunner and Baptist John, of the holy, glorious and all-praised Apostles, of the holy, glorious and victorious Martyrs, of our venerable and God-bearing Fathers, of the holy and healing Unmercenaries Kosmas and Damian, Kyros and John, Panteleimon and Hermolaos, Sampson and Diomedes, Mokios and Akinitos, Thalalaios and Tryphon, of the holy and righteous Forebears of God, Joachim and Anna, and of all the Saints. For you are the fount of healings, O God, our God, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

Then those who make the Efhelaion come among the Priests, and the principal Priest takes the holy Gospel and places it one of their heads. The Priests place their hands on the Gospel. The principal Priest says this Prayer out loud:

Deacon/Priest: Let us pray to the Lord.

Reader: Lord, have mercy.

Priest: Holy King, compassionate and most merciful Lord Jesus Christ, Son and Word of the living God, who do not desire the death of sinners, but hat they turn back and live, I do not place my sinful hand on the heads of these who have approached you in sins and who ask from you through us forgiveness of sins, but do you stretch out your mighty and powerful hand in this holy Gospel, which my fellow celebrants hold upon the heads of your servants. And with them I beg and implore your compassionate love for mankind which does not remember evil. O God our Saviour, who through your Prophet Nathan granted forgiveness to David of his sins when he repented, and received Manasse's prayer of repentance, do you yourself in your customary love for mankind accept these your servants who repent over their own offences, overlooking all their transgressions. For you are our God who commanded us to forgive those who fall into sins seventy times seven. Because as is your majesty so is your mercy. And to you belong all glory, honour and worship, together with your unoriginate Father, and your all-holy, good and life-creating Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

And those who make the Efhelaion kiss the holy Gospel.

Deacon/Priest: Have mercy on us, O God, in accordance with your great mercy; we pray you hear and have mercy.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Deacon/Priest: Again we pray mercy, life, peace, health, salvation, visitation and forgiveness of sins for the servants of God standing here, and that they may be pardoned every offence both voluntary and involuntary.

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (x3)

Priest: For you, O God, are merciful and you love mankind, and to you we send up glory, to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and to the ages of ages.

Reader: Amen.

The people come forward to be anointed by the Priest while the Reader reads the following idiomela as often as necessary until the anointing is completed.

Priest: The servant of God N. is anointed for the healing of soul and body. Amen.

Then is read the following Idiomel:

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Holy Unmercenaries, who possess a fount of healings, as you have been counted worthy of the greatest gifts from the eternal fount, our Saviour, grant healings to all who ask. For the Lord says to you, as equal in zeal to the Apostles: See, I have given you authority against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to cure every disease and every sickness. And so, as you lived well by his commandments, freely you received, freely give, healing the passions and sufferings of our souls and bodies.

Now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen. Theotokion.

Attend to the entreaties of your suppliants, O All-blameless, putting an end to the assaults of dire evils upon us and freeing us from every affliction. For we have you as our only safe and sure anchor, and we have gained your protection. May we who call upon you, Sovereign Lady, not be put to shame. Hasten to the entreaty of those who cry out to you with faith: Hail, Sovereign Lady, the help, joy and protection of all and the salvation of our souls.
